She's the First Signature Bracelet, $20, shesthefirst.org/gifts

"Not only is this bracelet super cute -- but it's super empowering as well. She's the First is a organization that promotes girls' education in developing countries so that they can be the first in their families to break through barriers. And singer JoJo is a supporter. 'As a young woman, I feel it is my duty to encourage and support other young girls in need so they too can have an equal opportunity to learn and grow,' she says. So be the 'first' to kick off this trend and spread the message this holiday season." -- Editor-in-chief Rachel Chang
