

10.18.10
Link Love

My reader was popping with awesomeness last week. There were so many great things happening, I couldn't keep up with it all. These are the posts I starred. The ones I couldn't bear to simply "mark as read." They deserved a little link love.

It's breast cancer awareness month. I think this necklace is a great way to show your support.