Memories Made Modern

As mothers, we can appreciate the sentimentalism of the locket. As modern women, however, lockets may not always reflect our modern sensibilities. Asha Patel has brought us a modern take on the traditional locket, keeping all the sentimentalism intact. With her "Get Tagged" collection, Asha crafts chic interpretations of timeless classics. Her necklaces are hand-cast sterling silver, embossed with meaningful symbolism or phrases. But the best part is that you can insert a photo, a poem or other memorable treasure into the back and carry it close to your heart. Just like your grandmother used to do.
